

4-H Project Work

Consider the following when guiding a child in selecting a 4-H project.

- Interests, needs and capabilities of the member
- Opportunity for sufficient challenge and growth
- Family situation
- Availability of adequate financing
- Availability of equipment and space
- Availability of leadership for the project

4-H Projects provide opportunities for:

- Developing Subject Matter Skills
- Life Skills Development
- Participation
- Developing Communication Skills
- Keeping Records
- Sharing Ideas
- Productive Leisure Time
- Recognition

4-H provides a world of opportunity.

Oklahoma State University, in compliance with Title VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Executive Order 11246 as amended, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and other federal laws and regulations, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, disability, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices or procedures. This includes but is not limited to admissions, employment, financial aid and educational service.

4-H Pledge

I pledge

My head to clearer thinking,

My heart to greater loyalty,

My hands to larger service and

My health to better living for my club, my community, my country and my world.

4-H Parents Pledge

I pledge my Head to give my child the information I can, to help him/her see things clearly and to make wise decisions.

I pledge my Heart to encourage and support my child no matter whether he/she has success or disappointments.

I pledge my Hands to help my child's club; if I cannot be a leader, I can help in many equally important ways.

I pledge my Health to keep my child strong and well for a better world through 4-H, for my child's club, our community, our country and our world.

Georgia 4-H, 1982

Adair County Extension
220 W. Division St.
Courthouse, Suite I
Stilwell, OK 74960

Phone: 918-696-2253

Fax: 918-797-2137

Email: marty.green@okstate.edu

Email: nancy.arnett@okstate.edu

Being a 4-H Parent

Oklahoma
4-H Youth Development

Your Role

Parent's Role in Project Work

- Aid in selecting, financing and managing
- Guide and support work without doing it for them
- Encourage follow-through and completion
- Give praise and encouragement
- Assist in gathering tools and supplies
- Encourage record keeping
- Provide support and transportation
- Assist organizational, project and activity leaders
- Become a project or activity leader
- Serve on committees to plan and implement club activities or project meetings
- Become a certified 4-H volunteer

Family's Role in 4-H

Encourage participation in 4-H programs at the local and county level and to assist in the development of the 4-H member.

Support local and county 4-H program through time, talent and financial support.

Work cooperatively with other families and 4-H volunteers.

Participate in Parent-Volunteer Training to enhance personal knowledge of 4-H, as well as, to assist and guide your child.

Guide 4-H project work. Doing it for them does not develop life skills.

BEING A 4-H PARENT

4-H is a family affair. 4

-H helps develop family unity by providing an opportunity to do things together.

4-H families become part of a larger extended family.

Members benefit when parents are involved in 4-H.

Parents and volunteers who take time to learn about and understand 4-H are of greater assistance to their child and the 4-H program.

Members need parental encouragement to see project work through. Keep members focused on what they are learning, not just winning.

Your time, talent and assistance strengthen the total 4-H program.

Parents are important people.

The time, talent and assistance provided by parents strengthen the total 4-H program.

Parent participation strengthens the local 4-H club.

Parents are needed to chaperone and provide transportation for local and county 4-H events. 4-H members may need your assistance to provide refreshments at club meetings.

Parents are needed to assume leadership roles. A healthy club requires more than one organizational leader providing leadership for everything and everyone. As a vital link in the 4-H leadership team, parents will be asked to serve on local and county committees. The committees will plan and conduct activities and events. Adults are encouraged to create healthy youth-adult partnerships within the committee structure.

A parent may be asked to share subject matter knowledge with a project group. The subject matter could include a hobby or occupation. It may even include scheduling a tour or field trip. This may even lead to a parent serving as project and activity leaders for other 4-H members.

Parents must stay informed.

Communication is vital in supporting your child's 4-H experience.

It is the family's responsibility to read and respond in a timely manner, to the newsletter, yearbook and written correspondence received from local and county programs.

Don't hesitate to ask questions of local and county volunteers and Extension Educators.

Parents receive many levels of satisfaction from 4-H.

They enjoy seeing their children and other children grow and develop.

Parents grow personally through new experiences and challenges.

Parents also have the satisfaction of serving the community through 4-H.

