Having a Vision for Your Child

When parents divorce, it can be a traumatic situation for children. The normal routines and rituals they are used to get disrupted and so many things in their lives are changing all at once. Establishing new routines and rituals can help ease the transition they are experiencing.

As a parent, it's vital to be aware of your child's emotions and how they're responding to these changes in their life, said Katey Masri, coordinator for Oklahoma State University Extension's Co-Parenting for Resilience program.

"Children often respond to divorce in various ways. You and your co-parent know your child best, and it's important for both of you to stay attuned to their needs and help them overcome these new challenges they're facing," Masri said. "The trauma of divorce is hard on children, but parents can help them be resilient and overcome the difficulties."

Obviously, divorce can be hard on children, but it doesn't have to be the end of the world. There are things parents can do to lessen the impact on their child and help guide them toward a bright future. By the same token, it's important to realize there are things parents may do that can make the situation even more difficult, as well.

Masri said having a vision and setting goals is a great way to take control of the situation and help put your children on a positive path.

"It's important to keep in mind you cannot control the actions of your co-parent. However, knowing the path you and your children are on allows you to respond to some of the challenges you're facing," she said. "Child success is predicted by how parents 'parent' after the divorce. A divorce is stressful for everyone involved and can change the way you parent."

It's best to use a balanced style of parenting, which focuses on emotional expression, love and support for the child's needs and their best interests. Establish new routines and rituals as soon as you can in an effort to provide a sense of normalcy for the child while they are still adjusting to the fact their parents are divorcing.

Always be available to listen when your child comes to you and wants to talk. Let them show their emotions and feelings about the divorce.

"Sometimes this can be hard to hear, but allowing them to share what they're feeling is key to helping them bounce back and have a bright future," Masri said.

Balanced parenting also involves firm but appropriate discipline and open conversations about why the child is being disciplined. When parents use balanced parenting, children tend to be responsible, confident, caring and happy individuals.

"We understand co-parenting is can be difficult, but it's important for your child's future," she said.

July 13, 2021 Special Election for Blaine County Voters

Following is wording on the proposition that registered voters have the opportunity to cast ballots on July 13 for. This is simply to inform voters; not to imply support for or against.

Proposition:

Shall Blaine County, Oklahoma be authorized to modify the purpose of a one half of one cent (.50%) county sales tax currently levied by the county for the purpose of maintaining and operating the courthouse and jail, in order to provide that the proceeds of the existing tax be expended for the purposes of maintaining, improving, operating, equipping, and furnishing courthouse facilities and acquiring, constructing, maintaining, improving, financing, operating, equipping, and furnishing jail facilities, including the payment of debt service on all obligations issued to finance said courthouse and jail facilities; provided said change of purpose shall not become effective until August 1, 2021; with tax continuing to have no stated termination date, all as specifically set out in Resolution No. 21-116 of the county?

For the Proposition— YES
Against the Proposition— NO

Pressure Canner Gauge Testing

Did you know that pressure canner gauges can be tested at the Major County OSU Extension Center? All you need to bring in is the lid with the gauge attached or just the gauge-- and please allow at least one day for testing. There is no charge per gauge for this service.

Let's Preserve!

Food preservation materials are available through the Major County OSU Extension Center as well. Handouts include several topics on food preservation such as: Peaches, Apricots, Nectarines, Pears, Jellies, Jams, Spreads, Cherries, Fruit Pie Fillings, Sweet Corn, Tomatoes, Apples, Leafy Greens, Peppers, and Snap Beans.

Also available is a booklet with salsa recipes for canning. These salsa recipes have been tested to ensure that they contain enough acid to be processed safely in a boiling water canner. We also have information on preserving many other foods as well.

HOW TO SELECT A SUNSCREEN

Choosing the right sunscreen can help reduce the risk of skin cancer and early skin aging caused by the sun.

SUNSCREEN IS AN IMPORTANT TOOL in the fight against skin cancer, including melanoma, the deadliest form of skin cancer.

1 in 5 Americans will be diagnosed with skin cancer in their lifetime.

The American Academy of Dermatology recommends consumers choose a sunscreen which states on the label:

- SPF 30 OR HIGHER
- BROAD SPECTRUM
Means a sunscreen protects the skin from ultraviolet A (UVA) and ultraviolet B (UVB) rays, both of which can cause cancer.
- WATER RESISTANT
For up to 40 or 80 minutes. Sunscreen can no longer claim to be waterproof or sweatproof.

1 ounce ONE OUNCE OF SUNSCREEN, enough to fill a shot glass, is considered the amount needed to cover the exposed areas of the body.

Canning Headspace Guidelines

Headspace is the space from the top of the jar to the food or liquid in the jar.

Correct Headspace Guidelines -- As a general rule:

1. Leave 1-inch headspace for low-acid foods, vegetables and meats.
2. Leave 1/2-inch headspace for high-acid foods, fruits and tomatoes.
3. Leave 1/4-inch headspace for juices, jams, jellies, pickles and relishes.

Why is it important?

Too little headspace -- Some foods, especially starchy foods, swell more than others and require additional headspace. If too little headspace is allowed, as food boils inside the jar it may be forced under the lid, leaving residue on the sealing surface and possibly preventing the lid from sealing.

Too much headspace -- The jar may not seal properly because the processing time is not long enough to drive the air out of the jar. And the food at the top of the jar may discolor.
