POTTAWATOMIE COUNTY 4-H'ER HAS A BIG HEART FOR PROJECT WORK

Pottawatomie County 4-H'er Grace Hobbs has a big heart and she's hoping to make a difference to nursing home residents across the state this Valentine's Day – and she's hoping Oklahoma 4-H'ers will want to help.

Hobbs, a member of the North Rock Creek 4-H Club, began creating Valentine's cards for local nursing homes in Shawnee two years ago. The first year she took cards to nine nursing homes and the project grew to 16 nursing homes the next year. In 2024, Hobbs would love to see nursing home residents in all 77 counties get Valentine cards, and she's offering free card kits to help make this project as big as possible.

Hobbs delivered 500 cards in 2022 and doubled that amount in 2023. With the help of 4-H'ers across the state, she is hoping for 2,000 or more cards to be delivered to Oklahoma nursing home residents for Valentine's Day in 2024.

"I think this is important because nursing home residents deserve to be loved and it's a great way for 4-H'ers to be involved in their communities," Hobbs said.

This project started after a conversation with her aunt who is the director of rehabilitation in a nursing home. Hobbs said her aunt told her about how the nursing home residents feel lonely a lot of the time.

"They get lots of visitors at Christmas, but the rest of the winter can be sad for them. This is one way we can help brighten their days," she said.

Hobbs is making Valentine card kits, free of charge, for any 4-H'er or 4-H club who wants them. The kit includes lacing hearts, needles, yarn, construction paper and a link to an instructional video. Use this link to place orders and this link contains additional information about Hobbs' project and what steps club members need to take in their counties. "This project just really warms my heart. When I delivered the cards, some of the residents told me stories about when they were involved in 4-H," Hobbs said. "I hope other 4-H'ers who participate learn that helping people is important."

Hobbs said she is thankful to her family and friends who donated the supplies needed to make the card kits so she can offer them free of charge to 4-H'ers who want to participate.

Kacie Jasper, Oklahoma State University Extension 4-H educator in Pottawatomie County, said she will bring the kits to OSU Extension's Biennial Conference in Stillwater that takes place Jan. 10-12 for educators to pick up. Orders must be placed by Jan. 5 to be picked up in Stillwater.

"It's exciting as an educator when a member is able to identify needs in the community and comes up with a plan to meet those needs and connect it to their 4-H project," Jasper said. "Grace is involved in the fabrics and fashions project and she has been able to connect the dots between basic sewing skills she has learned, teaching others and meeting a need in the community by bringing joy to nursing home residents."

Providing hands-on learning opportunities has been the backbone of the 4-H Youth Development program since it started. These learning opportunities help youth develop skills they'll use throughout their lives. Jasper said when club members interact with the nursing home residents who often may not get the same kind of daily interaction and socialization they once had, it's beneficial to the residents, but also the club members.

"The daily lives of youth are typically busy, and having youth take time to slow down and build connections with another generation reminds us of how important it is to show others they are valued and not forgotten," she said. "We can learn from each other."

Hobbs is utilizing the skills she learned through her fabrics and fashions project, and she's now teaching those skills others. She's developing her written and verbal communication skills, as well as learning graphic design and planning skills as she develops her marketing material. In addition, she's also building her public speaking and technology skills with the development of her video tutorials.

For more information about taking part in Hobbs' Valentine project, contact Jasper at 405-273-7683 or Kacie.jasper@okstate.edu. Remember, the deadline to order card kits to be picked up at OSU Extension's Biennial Conference is Jan. 5.
