Believing it is in the best interest of all livestock exhibitors and breeders of livestock to maintain a reputation of integrity and to continue to present a wholesome and progressive image in the show ring, the following rules and regulations have been established. Final interpretations of the rules will be made by show management decisions are final.

For the safety of both exhibitors and livestock, no pets will be allowed on the fairgrounds during the spring livestock show. The only animals allowed are those being exhibited and properly identified service animals.

The Fair Board asks that all exhibitors, instructors and visitors respect the grounds and those that maintain the facilities. If you need the facilities outside of the normal hours (6:00 a.m. and for 1 hour after the conclusion of the final show each day), please contact David Golay for arrangements.

The management reserves the right to amend or add to these rules as they in their judgment deem advisable. The interpretation and enforcement of all rules and regulations enacted by the Noble County Fair Board shall be the sole responsibility of the superintendents. All disputes shall be immediately reported to the acting superintendent who shall then determine the applicability of the rules and regulations. Any protest of the superintendent's interpretation of the rules and regulations must be presented in writing to the Noble County Fair Board at the next regularly scheduled meeting.

PLEASE NOTE THERE ARE NO LONGER ANY LISTINGS OF ESTABLISHED BREEDS. To establish a breed there must be 3 animals in that breed. The superintendent may adjust the listing of breeds being shown up to the time of publishing show order. Registered breeds without a class will be shown in AOB. AOB does not require 3 head minimum.

This show is a unit of the Noble County Free Fair. The Noble County Free Fair Association will pay the premiums listed with each species. The Noble County Fair Board reserves the right to adjust the prize money if deemed necessary.

Awards will be presented at 6:00 p.m. on Thursday.

Each exhibitor will be allowed to sell the premium on only one animal in the sale. In order to be eligible for the sale, the animal must have received a class placing. An exhibitor must turn in a sale card to indicate their intent to put an animal in the premium sale. Animals are released after they have been shown and placed. All premium sale animals must be checked back in no later than 4:00 p.m. on Thursday of the Premium Sale. Turning in a sale card is the sole responsibility of the exhibitor. If the premium card is not turned in within fifteen (15) minutes following the conclusion of each species show, that exhibitor will not be allowed in the premium sale. If multiple cards are turned in for the same exhibitor and they do not indicate (report to the Show Arena Office) by 15 minutes after the conclusion of the Beef show which animal they will scratch, the Fair Board will make the decision on which animal will scratch, but will generally scratch the animal with the lowest placing.

If the Exhibitor is at another school sanctioned function during the premium sale, another exhibitor may show the animal in their place.

Note: The same rules and regulations which are in place for the dress code of the exhibitor and the dressings allowed on the livestock are used for the premium sale.

Neither the Noble County Free Fair Board members, management, nor the livestock show officials are responsible for any accident or loss incurred during the show.

Any animal thought to be a danger to exhibitors, visitors, or other animals, at the superintendent's discretion, may be asked to leave the arena and/or the fairground premises.

NOBLE COUNTY SPRING JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SHOW DEDICATED TO ALICE KELLY

City girl, Alice Bayles, of Blackwell met Jack Kelly, a country boy from Marland, through mutual friends. They married and moved to a farm east of Red Rock where they raised their three children, Rachel, Annmarie and Bobby. They taught their children to love everything agriculture related.

When the kids were old enough to join 4-H, Jack had high hopes they would want to show pigs as that was his choice of show animals. Their showing days started with a Suffolk ewe, Sheba and grew from there. By the time all three children were showing they had their hands full with a registered Suffolk and Dorset flock, a barn full of pigs, and a heard of various breeds of cattle. To be a part of the family show team, Alice knew she would have to step up her game, and oh did she! She taught herself to sheer sheep, learn genetics and the required material to have purple ribbon show string. She not only helped her kids but other exhibitors as well, whether it be at the local, county, district, state or national shows.

Alice is a true advocate of the various aspects that 4-H and FFA have to offer. She encouraged not only her children, but she welcomed any child that wanted to hop in the truck for a weekend of livestock judging and speech competitions. She truly believes the skills that one acquires through these organizations are skills that will help them be successful though out their lives.

Jack and Alice were very active in the Frontier ag booster club and were recognized as volunteers for the Noble County 4-H program and Frontier FFA chapter. They willing helped any child who needed it. In 2019 Alice started a vocational scholarship in Jacks memory.

Even after the three Kelly kids had graduated, the family continued to support the Noble County exhibitors by sponsoring awards in the Sheep Division.

As a seasoned Lamb Lead exhibitor, Rachel was asked to judge at the Noble County Fall Fair and Noble County Spring Livestock Show. This led to her accepting to be Superintendent of the Lamb Lead and later as Sheep Superintendent. Alice was with her encouraging and helping every step of the way.

At the 2020 Noble County Spring Stock Show, Alice was able to put check mark next to “Ribbon Girl” on her bucket list. Not only did she get to hand the exhibitors their ribbon but she got to shake their hand and congratulate them with a smile.

After 40 years of being a pharmacist Alice retired in March of 2019. She loves to travel and being “YaYa” to her grandchildren, Kennedy (4), Evelyn (1) daughters of Aaron and Annmarie Stanford and Wesson (3), Huntlee (1) children of Bobby and Anna Kelly are her number one priority now. She also has a number of special extended family. Her family will tell you she is the best “Momma, Tatie, Grannie, and YAYA” they know.

Rumor has it there will be show animals in the barn at la chateau de BAR-K before long. Jack will be smiling down from heaven knowing there is a next generation of show kids and we know that with Alice’s competitive nature there will be another trophy wall full of purple ribbons.
